Fallin'

Jake Bugg

Oh baby I know your lying, look how hard I’m trying
But don’t you know that I know now?
Don’t let me see you crying, sometimes I feel like dying,
But don’t you feel alone, when you’re with me now?

Look to the sky, you can see me falling. Falling for you, oh I must be in love.
Hear me now, you can hear me calling, calling to you to say I h ad enough.

You don’t want to speak to me, something’s wrong I can see
And I know I’m not the only one.
I hear voices speak of you; I don’t know what to do
Because the things they say I think are true

Look to the sky, you can see me falling. Falling for you, oh I must be in love.
Hear me now, you can hear me calling, calling to you to say I h ad enough?

Oh my love, where are you?
Do you know where you’re hiding and where you will go?
In the trees, in the sky, in the seas, tell me the place where you hide.

Look to the sky, you can see me falling. Falling for you, oh I must be in love.
Hear me now, you can hear me calling, calling to you to say I h ad enough?
Look to the sky, you can see me falling. Falling for you, oh I must be in love.
Don’t go, no go away, today is the day when I have to say no.
