

Indigo Blue

Jake Bugg

Hovering down, hitting at the question how
Maybe I'm weird, would explain why I'm so scared
Area grey, scared of being wrong I stay
And as I fear, everything is still unclear

From the top of this mountain
Beyond the horizon
Indigo blue
Pulling the wool over my eyes

My body is bruised, the colour of indigo blue
My mind confused, why I'm no one that you choose?
I wish the noise would cover up my conscience voice
Every bad dream, I'm told that it's not my choice

From the top of this mountain
Beyond the horizon
Indigo blue
Colouring the rest of our lives

And I'll always make pain-making mistakes
But I don't care if you're mine
And if my heart breaks, keep our pictures on display
'Cause I'll love you 'til the end of time

From the top of this mountain
Beyond the horizon
Indigo blue
Pulling the wool over my eyes
Indigo blue
Colouring the rest of our lives
