

Love Is Something

Jake Bugg

Tonight you're gonna live
Devil's chosen to wish for you
Today you've been through it all
Your bed and tears call to you

Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give

And just another phase
No love beneath the taste in you
Stand by him when he lies
And through the deafening truth

Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give

Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give

Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
Love is something that you give
