

Never Mind

Jake Bugg

I don't know right and
I don't know wrong
I don't know where it is coming from
Never you mind, I'll forget you somehow

It's happened once and
It's happened twice
And by the third I'm still not wise
Never you mind, I'll forget you somehow

Just like the time before
When we should have loved not before
And I know I coulda been there more
But now I see
And as you take the floor
The lights go up and the crowd roars
Silence from the first note that falls
But you don't see me

It's happened once and
It's happened twice
And by the third I'm still not wise
Never you mind, I'll forget you somehow

Just like the time before
When we should have loved not before
And I know I coulda been there more
But now I see
And as you take the floor
The lights go up and the crowd roars
Silence from the first note that falls
But you don't see me
