

Seven Bridge Road

Jake Bugg

When I was a child I knew every brick and stone on the run home
Ooh, as you followed your father's footsteps all alone down to
Seven Bridge Road

Through the city and grime, walking past the mills in stone
Through the streets we walk down as you make your way back home

Ooh, I'll meet you there
Who let the demons out?
Back to Seven Bridge Road
I loved you then
Who let the demons out?

Oh, when I was so young, I knew every broken home on my way home
Ooh, as you followed your father's footsteps all alone down to
Seven Bridge Road
Through the city and grime, walking past the mills in stone
Through the streets we walk down as you make your way back home

Ooh, I'll meet you there
Who let the demons out?
Back to Seven Bridge Road
I loved you then
Who let the demons out?

And I want to walk with you before the life is through
With you

Oh, when I was a child I knew every brick and stone on the run home
Ooh, as you followed your father's footsteps all alone down to
Seven Bridge Road
Down to Seven Bridge Road

Ooh, I'll meet you there
Who let the demons out?
