

Keep Her

Jake Miller

It's all good if I lose my keys
If I lose my phone
But fuck my life if I lose her, lose her
Cause she got me so hypnotized
With those hazel eyes
If she had a twin, I'd still choose her, choose her

She's staring in my soul from the passenger seat
There's no turning back now, the feelings too deep
And I know that she knows that I'm terrified
Cause if I ever had to say goodbye
I think I might die

Made her mine, don't ask me how
Now I gotta figure out how to keep her
How to keep her
This time I won't fuck it up
This a different type of love
She's a keeper
And I'll do anything just to keep her
Keep her
Keep her
And I'll do anything just to

Just to make her feel good, make her feel sexy
Keep my hands between her legs while we in the backseat
Of an Uber, drunk on a Saturday
Love the way your jeans fit
Makes me feel some type of way, ooh
I'll keep you on your toes, keep ya guessin
Keep rubbin' your back when you stressin, yeah yeah
You make me lose my breath
Don't know what the fuck I'd do if you left

She's staring in my soul from the passenger seat
There's no turning back now, the feelings too deep
And I know that she knows that I'm terrified
Cause if I ever had to say goodbye
I think I might die

Made her mine, don't ask me how
Now I gotta figure out how to keep her
How to keep her
This time I won't fuck it up
This a different type of love
She's a keeper
And I'll do anything just to keep her
Keep her
Keep her
And I'll do anything just to

Keep her

And I'll do anything just to keep her
Keep her
Keep her
And I'll do anything just to
