

This Damn Memory

Jake Worthington

I can't remember
The last time I cried
And I can't recall
Such a lonely night
The bottle is empty
Guess I lost track of time
There's still only one thing
I just can't get off my mind

It goes on like a song that gets stuck in your head
The night that she left just keeps playing again
The silence is so loud I can't get no sleep
It's just me
And this damn memory

I know there's things that I could've done
Should've stopped her from leaving
But I just let her run
And when she looked back
With tears in her eyes
It's gonna haunt me, it's bound to haunt me me
For the rest of my life

It goes on like a song that gets stuck in your head
The night that she left just keeps playing again
The silence is so loud I can't get no sleep
It's just me
And this damn memory

The silence is so loud I can't get no sleep
It's just me
Oh!
And this damn memory

This damn memory
