

Bumble Bee

James Arthur

I saw you at, I saw you at,
A twisted part of life that never swung your way,
And now it haunts you every day,

And just like a flower turning blue,
I pulled you from the water,
Since that breath you drew,
I'm so glad that I brought you back to us, my dear,
and now you're like a daughter to me, to me, to me.

"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,
I could never live without you.
"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,
I could never live without you, no

Sweet, sweet, bumble bee [x3]

And if I could write your script, well I'd change all this,
and I'd include the part where you fulfill your every wish,
and your every gift,

And just like a flower turning blue,
I pulled you from the water,
Since that breath you drew,
I'm so glad that I brought you back to us, my dear,
and now you're like a daughter to me, to me, to me.

"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,
I could never live without you.
"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,
I could never live without you, no

Sweet, sweet, bumble bee [x3]

The drops from the ceiling, I thought you were not breathing
I'll be there forever and ever,
I promise.
The drops from the ceiling, I thought you were not breathing
I promise I'll be there, (forever, forever)
I'll be there, I promise.

"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,
I could never live without you.
"Never take the easy way out again," I said,
"Never take the easy way out."
I could never live without you, my dear friend,

I could never live without you, no.
