

Crystal Clear

James Bay

Time to sit back at the table
Time to pull my suitcase down
Time with you is so unstable
Why does time keep running out?

Why're we drowning in the details?
Dealing hurt and disbelief
Can we stop before we derail?
That's my heart between your teeth
Oh

Hold me close now let me go 'cause I've got to disappear
We talk shit, we fall out, we're bruised and broke
But my love for you's crystal clear

And the sun don't slow for no one
And now you're welling up again
And I keep holding back emotions
And we won't break, but we sure do bend
Oh

Hold me close now let me go 'cause I've got to disappear
There's sin and sense in fraying the rope
But my love for you's crystal clear

And I know it can get too much to say it
I know that we're delicate and patient
I know we won't always understand the next move

Hold me close now let me go 'cause I've got to disappear
We talk shit, we fall out, we're bruised and broke
But my love for you's crystal clear, oh

Hold me close now let me go 'cause I've got to disappear
We talk shit, we fall out, we're bruised and broke
But my love for you's crystal clear
My love for you's crystal clear
