

Everburn

James Bay

Waking up at midnight
Feeling kinda hollow
Funny how you and I
Get distant now
Hard to see the bright side
Easy not to let go
Crazy how the time flies
How things work out

We can be broken
We can be broken

But these arms
Just wanna hold you, hold you
So much
If you ever get a little lonely
My heart
Is gonna show you, show you
We fly, we fall, we learn
But you and me will everburn

When it's right
Between you and me
We can part the sea
There's no mountain too high
When we fight
And it's killing me
Yeah, I just want you to see

These arms
Wanna hold you, hold you
So much
If you ever get a little lonely
My heart
Is gonna show you, show you
We fly, we fall, we learn
But you and me will everburn

When it's feeling like a losing game
Through the silence when it's hard to say
Take my hand and come dancing in the dirt
Through the thunder and the pouring rain
Through the belly of a hurricane
Through the dark, through the dawn
We'll everburn

These arms
Wanna hold you, hold you
So much
If you ever get a little lonely
My heart
Is gonna show you, show you
We fly, we fall and we learn
We fly, we fall, we learn
But you and me will everburn
