I looked into myself like a case with you You don't weigh me down like you think you do I'm not looking to hold you down Have I been unkind to you? Have I got a cloud in hell of mind? Down goes the mist When you keep me at my best Have I? Have I, have I? Have I? I'd rather you choose me I know places that I'd go with you Have I? You say that all these flowers bloom I don't wanna run a ring past you I'd rather you chose me every day I'd rather you choose me I looked into myself like a case with you You don't weigh me down like you think you do I'm not looking to hold you down I'd rather you chose me every day I'd rather you choose me Down goes the mist When you need me at the best I'd rather you chose me I'd rather you choose me Choose me You don't owe me anything What could I want back from you? You don't owe me anything What could I want back from you? I will come and pay for it On any day, on any day you choose On any day, on any day you choose I'd rather you choose me every day Have I? Have I? Have I? Have I? I'd rather you choose me I know places that I'd go with you You say that all these flowers bloom I don't wanna run a ring past you I'd rather you chose me every day I'd rather you choose me I looked into myself like a case with you You don't weigh me down like you think you do

I'm not looking to hold you down

I'd rather you chose me every day
I'd rather you choose me
