

Mulholland

James Blake

Anyone whose ever made it across those steps
That lingers forward, that lingers forward
Where the tide comes in early and leaves us stranded
Without our family until the morning

They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me
They are just now understanding me

Oh...

Oh...

Oh...

Oh...

Oh...

They're understanding me at least

Oh...

Oh...

Oh...
