James Blake

I've done so much since
Who better to show it to
Sadly you're no longer her
Sadly you're no longer her
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
But you were made alone
And I was made alone
Now we take our natural road
Sadly you're no longer her
Sadly you're no longer her
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer

No longer, no longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer

From the pull of the rock
(No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer)
From the weight of the sky
(No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer)
(No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer)
(No longer her, no longer, no)

(No longer, no longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer)
(No longer her)

Sadly you're no longer her
Sadly you're no longer her
(No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer)
(No longer her, no longer, no)

We're at points
On the tracks we ride
And I know I'll love you for a very long time
Just staying back
Just staying back
Just staying back
I think about mine
Just staying back
Just staying back
Just staying back

When you sing
Please don't think of me
Cause it's way too hard from what I've seen
From what I've seen
From what I've seen

Sadly you're no longer her
Sadly you're no longer her
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
No longer her, no longer, no longer her, no longer
