

Adrenaline

James Blunt

I was so unprepared
Forgive me if I stop and stare
Like my first lung of air
I was here, and you were there

You're hitting me harder than a million goodbyes
And this isn't a heart attack, but I feel it inside

Like a shot straight to my heart
Adrenaline, adrenaline
Like a flashbang in the dark
Adrenaline, adrenaline
I take just one look at you
And I think I'm bulletproof
When you hold me in your arms
Adrenaline, adrenaline

It's all a blur, and coloured lines
Two bodies moving, but just one mind
You cut me open from inside out
You lift me up, and knock me down

You're hitting me harder than a million goodbyes
And this isn't a heart attack, but I feel it inside

Like a shot straight to my heart
Adrenaline, adrenaline
Like a flashbang in the dark
Adrenaline, adrenaline
I take just one look at you
And I think I'm bulletproof
When you hold me in your arms
Adrenaline, adrenaline

And I don't care if I overdose
Till I'm comatose
I don't care, I don't care
Let me stare till I overload
There's no antidote
I don't care, I don't care

Like a shot straight to my heart
Adrenaline, adrenaline
Like a flashbang in the dark
Adrenaline, adrenaline
I take just one look at you
And I think I'm bulletproof
When you hold me in your arms
Adrenaline, adrenaline
Like a shot straight to my heart
Adrenaline, adrenaline
Like a flashbang in the dark
Adrenaline, adrenaline
I take just one look at you
And I think I'm bulletproof
When you hold me in your arms
Adrenaline, adrenaline
