

Beautiful

James Durbin

In the day it's hard enough to see
Into the night we drown entrusting enemies
They'll never figure us out, the demon spreads its wings
When the light is gone will we still disagree?

We're blind
And innocent inside
Our evil dies becoming something beautiful tonight
We'll fly
Like creatures brought to life
Becoming something beautiful tonight

Danger lines we burn with such intensity in mind
As we lay to rest forgotten saints of whom we've left behind
And if they figure it out the demon starts to rise
When the light is gone I'll open up your eyes

We're blind
And innocent inside
Our evil dies becoming something beautiful tonight
So fly
To these arms
And drag me down below

We're blind
And innocent inside
Our evil dies becoming something beautiful tonight
So fly
Like creatures brought to life
Becoming something beautiful tonight

We're beautiful tonight
Fly
Beautiful tonight
