

Believe

James LaBrie

The way you look at me
Is not the same
I tried so hard to tell you
I'm to blame
So hold on tight
I'll make things right
You'll see
Just Believe in me
Perfect in every way
Is what you are
And what I've done
Has all but left a scar
So just hold on
And please be strong
For me
I will take your heartache
I will take your tears
I will take your sadness
And all your pain
And all your fears
I will take your heartache
I will take your tears
I will take your sadness
And all your pain
And all your fears
All your fears
Why try and run
From who you are?
I've watched you come undone
'Cause when we run
We don't get far
This world can sometimes tear you
'Til you're torn
A fairytale this was when it began
More camouflage to hide
All that we can
But this is real
All that you see
In me
Trust me and Believe
You can't control not feeling like it was
While holding her
This memory of us
All that you see
I need you to Believe
Let me take your heartache
Take away the tears
Let me stop this madness
And all your pain
And all your fears
I will take your heartache
I will take your tears
I will take your sadness
And all your pain
And all your fears
