

Falling

James LaBrie

The world has turned me upside down again
And put me back right where I started from
I could have sworn, that I was fastened in
But you've broken me, now look what I've become
When innocence was all that I embraced
How is it that I fell your grace
Falling
Falling
I'm still falling
So obvious, yet I can't define
A gentle kiss, has never felt so wrong
You say you are, but you were never mine
I know you're here
But somehow your heart is gone
When the smoke had cleared
And I knew what was true
How is that I still fell for you
And I'm still
Falling
Falling
I'm still falling
Falling
Falling
I'm still falling
Falling
Falling
I'm still falling
