

Calling

James Marriott

Hello, is nobody home?
You know I get stressed sometimes, can't be alone
Hello?
I'm back to zero
Find out what's going on inside
Bring me from below

Right now, I'll steal you when I need you
Come down, at these heights I've become used to calling
Keep me calm before you're gone
Strange how, no-one's here to listen in this
Ghost town, they try to keep their distance but we're calling
How could you ever move on?

Hello, I noticed you're free
Don't pretend that you know what you are
Who'd want to be me
But no, I hope you agree
You did what you did and you took it too far
Ignored my final plea

Right now, I'll steal you when I need you
Come down, at these heights I've become used to calling
Keep me calm before you're gone
Strange how, no-one's here to listen in this
Ghost town, they try to keep their distance but we're calling
How could you ever move on?

Hello, is nobody home?
You know I get stressed sometimes
Been left on my own

Right now, I'll steal you when I need you
Come down, at these heights I've become used to calling
Keep me calm before you're gone
Strange how, no-one's here to listen in this
Ghost town, they try to keep their distance but we're calling
How could you ever move on?

(I don't open letters anymore)
I don't open letters
(I don't open letters anymore)
I don't open letters
(Nothing I need to answer for)
I don't open letters
I don't open letters anymore
(I don't open letters anymore)
I don't open letters
(I don't open letters anymore)
I don't open letters
(Nothing I need to answer for)
I don't open letters
I don't open letters anymore
