

Cross The Line

James Morrison

Black and white, push and pull, then it gets uncomfortable
The time you got too close, I pushed you back
Drawing lines in the sand, tryna make you understand
I guess I lost you so much more because of that

Why can't I learn from mistakes?
Test forgiveness 'til it breaks
Give you just a little space
And I've been carrying on like

I can't do nothing 'bout it
Just watch you up and run away
I can't do nothing 'bout it
I don't know if it's love or hate
I'd say sorry but I'd barely mouth it
I'd turn back, but the only way's to fall behind
Oh, have I crossed the line?

Was I too much or not enough?
Far too smooth or way too rough?
Either way, I know that I've been hard to tolerate
Less like love and not quite friends
Guess I pushed too hard again, well
That's the kind of love you won't appreciate

Why can't I learn from mistakes?
Test forgiveness 'til it breaks
Give you just a little space
And I've been carrying on like

I can't do nothing 'bout it
Just watch you up and run away
I can't do nothing 'bout it
I don't know if it's love or hate
I'd say sorry but I'd barely mouth it
I'd turn back, but the only way's to fall behind
Oh, have I crossed the line?

And I knew I would some time
Did it to myself, I know
And I can't do nothing 'bout it
But just watch you up and run away
I can't do nothing 'bout it
And I don't know if it's love or hate
I'd say sorry but I'd barely mouth it
I'd turn back, but the only way's to fall behind
Oh, have I crossed the line?
