

Reach Out

James Morrison

Is that the sound of silence breaking
All this time we've been waiting
Like a train that never leaves the station now, now

So what's it take to get this moving
It's just a chance not a life we're losing
All this love that we're letting down, down

So baby please don't tell me you gonna watch me fall
You know I'm only human
So don't leave me in ruins

I'm begging you to reach out
I'm still trying to hold out my hand
I'm begging you to reach out
It should be an easy thing to do, ooohh

Deep down
In our hearts you know that there's a chance
Begging you to reach out, reach out
Begging you to reach out, reach out

It's all noise no communication
Where's the love that we should be making
And it's there for the taking now

So close to feeling something
Between us there's next to nothing
How long before we close this whole thing down, down

So baby please don't tell me you gonna watch me fall
You know I'm only human
So don't leave me in ruins

I'm begging you to reach out
I'm still trying to hold out my hand
Begging you to reach out
It should be an easy thing to do, oooohhh

But deep down
In our hearts you know that there's still a chance
Begging you to reach out, reach out
Yes I'm begging you to reach out, reach out

Pleeeassssee
Tell me how did we get so separated, yeaahhh
Tell me that we could be one

Yeaahh ahhhooooo yeeah
Lay your hands on me

Begging you to reach out
I'm still trying to hold out my hand
Begging you to reach out, reach out
Should be an easy thing to do
Deep down, in our hearts you know that there's still a chance
I'm begging you to reach out, reach out

I'm begging you to reach out, reach out
Begging you to reach out, reach out
Reach out
Begging, I'm begging you to reach out
Reach out
Reach out
