

Enough

James Newman

Everybody's got a heart with a hole in the bottom where the love runs
out
Every love is a flame that spins and dims in the wind
So if your flame needs fuel
Like an empty room
I feel it too
'Cause everybody's got a heart with a hole in the bottom where the lo ve runs out

Oh now
Oh, I got both hands on the wheel

So if you're running out
Out of love
Don't start giving up
Any time you think there's not enough
I got enough for the both of us

Even if you're falling out
Out of love
I'm not giving up
Any time you think there's not enough
I got enough for the both of us

Everybody's got a hurt
It's a knife that cuts when you get too close
And you think that no one's ever gonna see that blade and stay
But I can hold that pain for a thousand days
And maybe for a second make it go away
And make you feel whole again

So if you're running out
Out of love
Don't start giving up
Any time you think there's not enough
I got enough for the both of us

Even if you're falling out
Out of love
I'm not giving up
Any time you think there's not enough
I got enough for the both of us

Ooh oh oh
Ooh oh oh

Everybody's got a heart with a hole in the bottom where the love runs
But I'll be reaching out, catching every drop you spill
