

Lustre

James Reyne

Run your fingers through the vapour trails that cross the skies
Feel the glow, the lustre shows, Mancini smiles tonight
I know
They told me signs of life were out there

Straight up Sam's an empty man, he don't know where to go
Slip and slide electra-glide, he's melting like the snow
I know
They told me signs of life were out there

Sea-side
Tired eyes
There's a tyranny of distance
Between you and I

Miles ahead the skipper said he'd see them to the shore
Sadie sighed and Molly tried to float them through the door
I know
They told me signs of life were out there
I know
They told me signs of life were out there

Sea-side
Tired eyes
There's a tyranny of distance
Between you and I
