

Remember Me

James TW

Same eyes
Different stare
Same smile
Like you're still there
You're the kindest soul
That I have ever know
Why did this happen?

What I'd give for one more story
The ones that I found boring years ago
Now I tell them back to you

What I'd give for one more moment
Before your eyes are closing
Where you remember me

Oh, how it hurts to watch you slip away
It just gets worse and I can't pull the breaks
And I can't let go even though I know you don't Remember me

Same voice
Without the jokes
You feel far away
When you're so close
You don't feel the pain
The same way that I do
That makes me happy

What I'd give to ask a question
You could teach me one more lesson
You never knew just how much I needed you

What I'd give for one more moment
Before your eyes are closing
Where you remember me

Oh, how it hurts to watch you slip away
It just gets worse and I can't pull the breaks
And I can't let go even though I know you don't Remember me

What I'd give for one more moment
Before your eyes are closing where you
Remember me
