

We Don't Kiss Under Umbrellas Like We Used To

James Vincent McMorrow

We don't kiss under umbrellas like we used to
And I don't do a lot of things that I said that I would do
It reminds me I've got yards to go and miles to prove
We don't kiss under umbrellas like we used to

But all I know is I could use some sleep
So just wait another week
And I'll come back as something that resembles new

My doctor told me I'm alive
Just like in the movies
But no one lives like that
It's all just savage
And it's built to make you sad
I joke around
But in my heart it's mainly nuts and bolts of failure
Glued together by your love
And other pieces I have found

When everybody else had come and gone
You, you never would
'Cause you just understand the way I talk

And I don't want to wait a whole life for life to change
Another fool wrapped in plastic, acting strange
Don't want to wait
Now I've found you

Oh no
Ooh, oh no
Ooh, oh no
Ooh, oh no

And I can still remember where we met
Oh how could I forget?
You still seem exactly like you should

And I don't want to wait a whole life for life to change
Another fool wrapped in plastic, acting strange
Don't want to wait, ooh
Now I've found you

Oh no
Ooh, oh no
Ooh, oh no
Ooh, oh no
