

This Time

Jamey Johnson

Listen up

This time, if you want me to come back, it's up to you
But remember I won't allow the things you used to do
You're gonna have to toe the mark and walk the line
'Cause this time will be the last time

This time, if I should feel unwanted, I won't stay
Each tomorrow will depend on the love you give today
It's all up to you to keep in mind
This time will be the last time

This time should be anything like the other times
This time will be the last time

If this time should be anything like the other times
This time will be the last time