

Nothin

Jamie Grace

I don't think the people like how I do my hair
'Cause they comment everywhere
And I don't think that they prefer
I'm a little more thick and I like my curves
They got so many opinions
Thoughts and views and cares
But the one thing in this world
That matters most right here

That I'm gonna live today
I choose myself, breathe in, breath out
My skin won't break no more
'Cause I walk out life like I know
I'm loved, I'm beautiful and I'm amazing
Hate can't faze me no more

So if you're not my mama or my maker or my therapist
Or man or friends
You ain't gotta tell me nothing
Nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing

I ain't afraid of getting old
Took the test, put in the work
Dropped the shame of who I was Proud of who I am and who I'll become
I try to dust off dusty opinions
Don't worry 'bout the likes and shares
'Cause the one thing in this world
That matters most right here

That I'm gonna live today
I choose myself, breathe in, breath out
My skin won't break no more
'Cause I walk out life like I know
I'm loved, I'm beautiful and I'm amazing
Hate can't faze me no more

So if you're not my mama or my maker
Or my therapist or man or friends
You ain't gotta tell me nothing
Nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing

Call me Brunson on the beat 'cause I'ma school ya
Make it elementary, it's rudimental, 'cause I
Ain't the woman that you thought I shoulda been
Your imagination went and got a little ruined (too dark)
Too far, too much, too soon
Woke up with new mercies, fresh set of spoons
Darling let me tell you if you want a song to sing
Beauty is a blended blend of captivating things
If your eyes and your mind take deep dives outta your lines
That's on you, not me

I choose to live today
I choose myself, breathe in, breath out

My skin won't break no more
'Cause I walk out life like I know
I'm loved, I'm beautiful and I'm amazing
Hate can't faze me no more

So if you're not my mama or my doctor
Or my therapist or man or friends
You ain't gotta tell me nothing
Nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing
