

A Darkness

Jamie Lawson

There's a darkness in between us, a darkness in my soul
A love will never leaves us, a heart within its home
The chain to send these blots out, living life without parole
To keep you from the secrets, that I'm not told I've watched you from a distance and I've watched you close beside
I whispered your name in an echo to some day reach your side
And I lead you to an altar to take you for my bride
Now lead me into your heart where my soul resides

'Cause I wouldn't know what you know
About love, dear, about love, dear
And I would go where you go
When you're not here, when you're not here

There's a darkness in your kitchen, a darkness in your heart
And darkness in your bedroom, until one light fills it all
There's confusion in your sleeping, confusion in your dreams
There's a hand around your throat now and there's silence in your screams

Lord, please forgive me, Lord, what have I done
Awaken this stuff beside me, this delicate little stone
I only wanted feelings but feelings that were known
Not there's blood on my hand the color of the setting Sun

Oh no, not again, oh no, not again
Oh no, not again, oh no, not again

'Cause I wouldn't know what you know
About love, dear, about love, dear
Only wanted to to go where you'd go
Now you're not here, you're not here
You're not here

Well Lord, please forgive me, Lord, please forgive me
Lord, please forgive me
Lord, please forgive me, Lord, please forgive me
Lord, please forgive me, Lord, please forgive me
