

Broken

Jamie Lawson

Holding out for a lifeline
Calling out for a name
Everything keeps changing
While everything's the same

I know, some days are harder to trust
I know, some days are harder because

Soon the cracks will show
Split this cage wide open
Soon the cracks will show
And everyone will know I'm broken

Who in the world can you turn to?
Words fall so easily
When they won't let me reveal
Sometimes it feels like this secret's keeping me

Soon the cracks will show
Split this cage wide open
Soon the cracks will show
And everyone will know I'm broken, broken, broken, broken

Does anyone else feel the same way?
And do you hide it all inside?
'Cause surely these days, it's okay to say

Soon the cracks will show
Split this cage wide open
Soon the cracks will show
And everyone will know I'm broken
Soon the cracks will show
Split this cage wide open
Soon the cracks will show
And everyone will know I'm broken, broken, broken
Soon the cracks will show
And everyone will know I'm broken
