

Heal A Bone

Jamie Lawson

Give something back, heal a hole, replaceable
And do something good, prove me wrong, you're but all stone
I do all I can to get you through these trouble endings
I'll be someone you can rely upon

Give something back, heal a bone, replace 'em all
I'll do something good, to prove you wrong, I'm not all stone
And when we try to hide we cope too, too fast
Yeah, there won't be anything left to hold on to

There's lights that never fade
Time, it can't be changed
That's all you want, some more
That's all you want me for
And there's nothing I can do, oh no

'Cause lights they never change
Time, it can't be saved
That's all you want, some more
Is it all you want me for
'Cause there's nothing I can do
It comes back to me and you
It'll all come down to this
You are everything I miss
You are everything I miss

Oh, words that never change
Time, it can't be saved
That's all you want, some more
Is it all you want me for
'Cause there's nothing I can do
It will all break down to you
It comes back to this
You are everything I miss
You are everything I miss
You are everything I miss

Oh, there's nothing I can do, oh no
