

Honest With You

Jamie Lawson

I have to admit that I've been lonely
It's been hard without you here
I wish I'd listened better when you told me
Some days turn into years

Maybe I could come over to your house
We'll drink tea out in the yard
You can see that I've been busy changing
Could it really be so hard
Oh I know

I never was honest with you about love
I never was honest with you about love

I have to admit I miss that feeling
Driving nowhere in your car
Shouting out to Dancing On The Ceiling
As if we were movie stars

Maybe I could come over to your house
We'll drink tea out in the yard
You can see that I've been busy changing
Could it really be so hard
Oh I know

I never was honest with you about love
I never was honest with you about love
Not even for a minute or two
'Cause the truth is I was in it with you

I never told you, I never told you
Never said what was on my mind
All of those times I came so close to
I came so close to saying
This heart's been praying
For a heart like yours for mine

I have to admit that I've been stupid
I won't get that chance again
Worse than that I end up playing Cupid
And introduce you to my best friend

I wish I was honest with you about love
I wish I was honest with you about love
If only for a minute or two
'Cause the truth is I was in it with you

I wish I was honest with you about love
I wish I was honest with you about love
If only for a minute or two
'Cause the truth is I'm still in it with you