

Love You All The Same

Jamie Lawson

I guess I've come too far now
To turn and walk away
I don't know how I got here
But I wanted to say

No, I don't ride horses
I've no land to my name
And I hope you can forgive me
I am fool enough to claim
I can love you all the same

Sometimes fate, it's twisting
Where I feel I should be
There is no point resisting
This hold you have on me

I don't own an acre
I've no money to my name
If I had the chance then I'd wake up
Just to let the day proclaim
I can love you all the same

And you and I
Could be the richest lovers
In the world
In the world

But I guess I've come too far now
To turn around and leave
I don't know how I got here
Sometimes you must believe

There is a higher reason
Brings all moths towards the flame
I believe it's the same reason
Keeps me crying for your name

I could have loved you all the same
I could have loved you all the same
