

Other Side Of The Day

Jamie Lawson

I thought I'd call and say goodnight
It's almost time to close my eyes
You're just waking up there, sleepyhead
The morning sunlight lies across you there

On the other side of the day
Somewhere underneath it all
The saddest eyes, on the other side of the day
All the distances and time
All the hello's and goodbyes
You're so far away, on the other side of the day

We talk for hours just to say
The smallest detail of our day
We circle around the hardest part
Only to end up at the start

On the other side of the day
Somewhere underneath it all
The saddest eyes, on the other side of the day
All the distances and time
All the hello's and goodbyes
You're so far away, on the other side of the day

We get closer with each breath
Counting down the hours left
Counting down the hours left
Counting down the hours left
Counting down the hours left

On the other side of the day
Somewhere underneath it all
The saddest eyes, on the other side of the day
All the distances and time
All the hello's and goodbyes
You're so far away, on the other side of the day

On the other side of the day
Somewhere underneath it all
The saddest eyes, on the other side of the day
All the distances and time
All the hello's and goodbyes
You're so far away, on the other side of the day
On the other side of the day
