

Enough's Enough

Jamie Lidell

What could it be? I'm looking for in a strangers eyes? When you and i know you wait for me across the open skies. I'm a 6 foot fool in a 2 bit disguise. Too big too small never right sized. Never let you know never let you know what you mean to me. But enough is enough. You're more than enough.
So much more than enough for me. what did I hear you say? You been feeling like you might be wrong for me? That you're not the one I'm looking for because of who I used to be? Who knew your 5 foot 3 would be my perfect size? We're like puzzle pieces baby. When we click side by side. Just wish I could let you know. Let you know what you mean to me. So enough is enough. You're so much more than enough for me.
