

Lie

Jamie McDell

I know a girl, she's funny and she's beautiful
She's in another world where finding love seems mythical
And she's blind she can't see all the beauty on the inside
Shine through her eyes

She says she's not pretty
She don't trust what I see
And deep down she wonders why
And I'll say she's amazing
And she'll say the same thing
I hate it when people lie

He's so in love but she can't wrap her head around
That she's his only one
Cuz she's watched all her friends fall down
Yeah, falling down around her

She says she's not pretty
She don't trust what I see
And deep down she wonders why
And I'll say she's amazing
And she'll say the same thing
I hate it when people lie

What can I do? Tell me what can I say?
Cause nobody's perfect but you're not far away

So don't say that you're not pretty
Trust in what I see
You don't have to wonder why
Cuz I think you're amazing
And I'll say the same thing
To you I'd never lie
To you I'd never lie
