

Best Seat In The House

Jamie Miller

You would laugh
At how sad I've been lately
You'd say it's good excuse for a party
And I'm trying
But you were always better at that
You would love
How many people filled the room
How many moments revolved around you
It's nice to remember
But I'd rather have you back

Oh, I know
That's just life
Oh I know
I'll be fine, at least I'll try

It holds me together
Knowing goodbye's not forever, just for now
So, for now
I'll be down here making memories
Knowing you're front row to everyone somehow
You're not around but you got the best seat in the house

Gotta ask
Is the view as good as I've heard?
You'd say it's overrated. I'm sure
Just to make up for the way you got there first

Oh, I know
That's just life
Oh, I know
I'll be fine at least I'll try

It holds me together
Knowing goodbye's not forever, just for now
So, for now
I'll be down here making memories
Knowing you're front row to everyone somehow
You're not around but you got the best seat in the house

The best seat in the house
The best seat in the house
The best seat in the house

It holds me together
Knowing goodbye's not forever, just for now
So for now
I'll be down here making memories
Knowing you're front row to everyone somehow
You're not around
But you got the best seat in the house
