

In The Cards

Jamie Miller

If only wanting you was enough
Then you would probably be the one
Now, I've gotta live with knowing
That there's no one I could ever love
Like this, again

No, it doesn't matter what I do
I'm still everything but right for you

I've been all in from the start
Just tryna make your heart feel something that it don't
Oh-oh, I could love you twice as hard
And rewrite all the stars, but you'd still let me go
Oh-oh, it's almost like I love to fall apart
'Cause I'm still out here playing for a heart
That isn't in the cards

Oh, I guess it hurts to come to terms
With the hand that you've been dealt
And even though it's ruining me
It's still the realest thing I've ever felt
I do it to myself

'Cause I know it doesn't matter what I do
I'm still everything but right for you

I've been all in from the start
Just tryna make your heart feel something that it don't
Oh-oh, I could love you twice as hard
And rewrite all the stars, but you'd still let me go
Oh-oh, it's almost like I love to fall apart
'Cause I'm still out here playing for a heart
That isn't in the cards

Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh
It just isn't, isn't
Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh
It just isn't in the cards

I could hold on for forever
But it won't pull us together
If I'm doing it alone

It's almost like I love to fall apart
'Cause I'm still out here playing for a heart
That isn't in the cards
