Friendly Fire

Jamie Scott

You can carry all you want but your body calls time
You say you need a little drinking but your body ain't lying
Now it's come around baby

And here we go again
We said we'd never go to war
Now there's nothing left worth fighting for
We started off so good
But now were battered and we're bruised
We can barely stand up in the ruins

Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you
Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you

Here you come again baby with your love
You got the same old look in your eye, my god
And now you tell me I'm crazy

So here we go again
You say you'd never go to war
Now there's nothing left worth fighting for
We started off so good
But now were battered and we're bruised
We can barely stand up in the ruins

Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you
Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you

I wanna lie under the stars tonight
Dreaming of somebody who holds me
I wanna lie under the stars tonight
Dreaming of somebody who knows me

Here we go again
We said we'd never go to war
Now there's nothing left worth fighting for
We started off so good
But now were battered and we're bruised
We can barely stand up in the ruins

Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you
Look at how we got caught up in the friendly fire
Look at how we got caught up, yeah, didn't mean to hurt you
