

Sun

Jana Kirschner

Sun is looking through my empty glass
Can see the raindrops laying on grass
Blue bird's singing show me the way
Take away my pain from yesterday

If you only wanted to be like a bird
Singing a song we would never fall apart
If you only wanted to be like a bird
Singing a song we would never fall apart...

Bell is ringing and I should be dressed
Clouds are gathering like wedding guests
Blue bird's singing up in the clouds
Take away the pain from my restless mind

If you only wanted to be like a bird...

Sun is looking through my empty glass
Can see the raindrops laying on grass
Blue birds singing brings another day
Take away my pain from yesterday.
