

Untouchable

Jana Kramer

Tonight ain't the night
For nothing but the whole truth
That's all I'm asking of you
Don't waste my time
With lies that I can see through
Words that you can undo

Before I give myself away
I need to know that you mean what you say

Are you somebody who can stand the breaking?
Strong arms to hold me when my heart starts aching
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable, hey
Like a little solid ground when the whole world's shaking
I want a promise of forever staying
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable, untouchable

Tell me I'm
I'm falling for the last time
This won't end in goodbye
Will you stay
When everything we've built is shattered?
Baby, will it matter?

This time my mind's made up
Because maybe's just not enough

Hey, are you somebody who can stand the breaking?
Strong arms to hold me when my heart starts aching
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable, yeah
Like a little solid ground when the whole world's shaking
I want a promise of forever staying
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable, untouchable

Untouchable

Are you somebody who can stand the breaking?
Strong arms to hold me when my heart starts aching
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable, yeah
Like a little solid ground when the whole world's shaking
I want a promise of forever staying
I'm looking for a love that's untouchable

Are you a love that's untouchable?
