

Surrender

Jane Monheit

never mind the dishes
piled high in the sink
never mind the weather
or your work day
you been running
all day long
trying to be everything to everybody
everything to everybody lets be still and see what a little silence can bring go on and lose yourself for just a little while right now no one
is aiming to impress
right now more is less
no this is not a test
on the world
the world is hard enough and you cant always be made of the toughest stuff
so just surrender
oh surrender
let worries all fall from your face knowing this is the safest place to surrender

come on surrender
its only us
giving in to trust

and come tomorrow
its back to the everyday and come to tomorrow
its business as usual
there will be lots of time for the daily grind
but now hold on tight
look me in the eye
and dont let go
give me something we can wrap our hearts around oh wrap our hearts around when theres nothing right and nothing wrong
nothing not weak or strong and nothing left to prove
surrender
its only us giving in to trust