

Think Like A Man

Jane Zhang

Said sorry a thousand times
Then go tell another lie
Never meant to do you wrong
Don't know why she's playing on your phone

I never meant to do it
I know I put you through it
No matter what I say
You don't trust me anyway
You know that you're my baby
I know you probably hate me
What goes around comes back around
And that's okay

I should break your heart
I should make it hard
Would that hurt you over and over again
If I played your games
Would you feel the same
Boy, how does it feel when I think like a man?
(Think like a man, oh)

You stay home and I'll go out
I was with the fellas, what you talking 'bout?
Baby, I don't even know his name
Don't be so jealous, it wasn't me
It wasn't me

I never meant to do it (do it)
I know I put you through it (through it)
No matter what I say
You don't trust me anyway (trust me anyway)
You know that you're my baby (baby)
I know you probably hate me (you hate me don't cha)
What goes around comes back around
And that's okay

I should break your heart
I should make it hard (so hard)
Would that hurt you over and over again (over again, over again
, yeah)
If I played your games
Would you feel the same (would you feel the same)
Boy, how does it feel when I think like a man?
(Think like a man, oh)
