

Big Wide World

Janet Devlin

Sun is rising, in the city
On a rooftop, feeling dizzy
Don't look down
Cause you're ready now
Feelin' nervous but you can do this
This is a place with no excuses
Don't back down
Cause you're ready now

Cause you've got the pulse, pulse of the city
Flow through your veins, there's no more limit
Look to the sky this town has no ceiling
Don't back down

Welcome to the big wide world
It's bigger than you've ever heard
It's all you've ever wanted
So we should go get lost in
The big wide world
The big wide world

Feel the glow of the street light
Let your hair down at midnight
Don't stop now
Live life loud

Cause you've got the pulse, pulse of the city
Flow through your veins, there's no more limit
Look to the sky this town has no ceiling
Don't back down

Welcome to the big wide world
Wake up to the big wide world
Where everything is open
If you keep your mind from closing

Welcome to the big bad world
It's bigger than you've ever heard
It's all you've ever wanted
So we should go get lost in
The big wide world
The big wide world
The big bad world

Cause you've got the pulse, pulse of the city
Flow through your veins, there's no more limit
Look to the sky this town has no ceiling
Don't back down

Welcome to the big wide world
Wake up to the big wide world
Where everything is open
If you keep your mind from closing

Welcome to the big bad world
It's bigger than you've ever heard
It's all you've ever wanted

So we should go get lost in
The big wide world
The big wide world
The big bad world
So we should go get lost in the big wide world
