

Ghosted

Janet Devlin

Was it ever really real
If you don't feel the way I feel
All those promises you made
Well they must've been in vain

Now I'm staring at my phone
Wondering where the hell you've gone
Cause you're leaving me on read
Boy, you must be playing dead

Days turn to weeks turn to where hell you been
I know you've been online cause I've seen
So rest in peace to the man you used to be
Your absence was the answer that I need

You ghosted me
And you couldn't see
You'll never find another quite like me
But you ghosted me
Couldn't set me free
You let me down and now you're history
Cause you ghosted me

Was it too much to say
That you didn't feel that way
Left me hanging on the line
Just so you could waste my time

Is there nothing I can do
Should I just get over you
Will you ever send a text
Or am I just wasting breath

Days turn to weeks turn to where hell you been
I know you've been online cause I've seen
So rest in peace to the man you used to be
Your absence was the answer that I need

You ghosted me
And you couldn't see
You'll never find another quite like me
But you ghosted me
Couldn't set me free
You let me down and now you're history

I'm over all the sleepless nights
Haunted by what I could write
Bin the paragraph I've typed
Out of sight so out of mind
But there's a million other guys
Who will actually reply
Got no tears left to cry
This is our final goodbye

Days turn to weeks turn to where hell you been
I know you've been online cause I've seen

But you ghosted me
And you couldn't see
You'll never find another quite like me
But you ghosted me
But now I'm free
To find a lover to give me what I need
But you ghosted me
And now I see
It's over boy, thank God you let me be
Cause you ghosted me
