

Red Flag

Janet Devlin

You go to church on a Sunday
You want a dog and a family
Never smoked cigarette or bet on a game
Never been the type to ever drive me insane

But you pick me up in a heartbeat
You love your mum and your new jeep
Always call, you never lie, it's driving me mad
But if I'm being honest you're the best that I've had

I cry on the phone and I don't make it easy
Leave you alone and then want you to need me
But you keep taking me back
You must be crazy for that
Yeah, there must be a reason

And I've tried and I've tried and I've tried to find a reason
I should run away, run away
Every time, every time that I look for a sign
I find reason to stay
Cause the only red flag I see
Is that you're in to me

I, I'm complex on a good day
I make it hard to love me
Don't mean to be difficult I'm not playing games
Never understand how I don't drive you insane

You answer your phone yeah you make it so easy
Don't leave me alone or say that I'm needy
You keep taking me back
You must be crazy for that
Yeah, there must be a reason

And I've tried and I've tried and I've tried to find a reason
I should run away, run away
Every time, every time that I look for a sign
I find reason to stay
Cause the only red flag I see
Is that you're into

Someone like me
Who's over-thinking
Every little thing you do
How does someone like you want to go through
A love that's over analysed?
Don't you get tired of second guessing
Testing, wrecking
Don't leave me when I lose my mind

And I've tried and I've tried and I've tried to find a reason
I should run away, run away
And I've tried and I've tried and I've tried to find a reason
I should run away, run away
Every time, every time that I look for a sign
I find reason to stay
Cause the only red flag I see

Yeah, the only red flag I see
Is that you're into me
