

Saint of the Sinners

Janet Devlin

I'm on my hands and knees again
Singing a symphony of sins
I'm crying, I'm crying again
And I am sorry for what I've done
Apologies from empty lungs
I'm lying, I'm lying again

You let me drown in holy water
You let me fall on holy ground
I spent my life at your altar
But all you did was hold me down

Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
Don't trust a word I say
And don't take my crown away
Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners

I'd say I'd see you in the end
But I don't consider you a friend
I'm screaming, I'm screaming again
You buried me with no amen
So one day there would be revenge
I'm singing, I'm singing again

You let me drown in holy water

You let me fall on holy ground
I spent my life at your altar
But all you did was hold me down

Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
Don't trust a word I say
And don't take my crown away
Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners

I am more than the tears I've cried
I am more than the blood that's dried
I am more than my tiger stripes
I am more than the sharpest lives
And I know that this lightning strikes
This lightning strikes twice

Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
Don't trust a word I say
And don't take my crown away
Cause I'm the saint of the sinners
I'm the saint of the sinners
