

Every Time a Teardrop Falls

Janie Fricke

Honey, you don't know
How much you hurt me
As you ain't been around enough to see
How many times I cried
Over you, leaving me

Lord knows, I try
To keep it here inside
And locked up
Behind these four walls

But I guess the inside
Shows on the outside
Every time a teardrop falls

Then, I try to show
A little smile
But, it only lasts a little while
Before the clouds in my eyes
Start to rain a country mile

Lord knows, I try
To keep it here inside
And locked up
Behind these four walls

But I guess the inside
Shows on the outside
Every time a teardrop falls

But I guess the inside
Shows on the outside
Every time a teardrop falls
