

A Million Miles Away

Jann Arden

I can picture you asleep in your bed
A massive explosion of thoughts in your head
Life is complicated when you fall in love and out again

Oh, I can feel you, I can hear you, I can see you in your room
Oh, I can kiss you, I can taste your mouth, I can nearly touch your face
Oh, how I miss you, how I miss you, how I long for your embrace
From a million miles away

I can picture you in the silvery rain
You've got so many thoughts running around in your brain
Time seems confiscated when you fall in love again

I can picture you asleep in your bed
Imagine your body light flickering red
Life is complicated when you fall in love and out again
You fall in love and out again