

Cries

Jarboe

you can hear them out there the're gonna follow you down on the rocks, in the air inside your mind they made you scared of all the lies that have been told of all the hearts now that have been sold of all the tears that've been disowned those cries are gonna swallow up the seeds you have sown so hold on and make it last hold on for your last holy breath hold on for your faith, it has lapsed those cries like an acid they will eat through your mask those cries like a hammer they will nail down your past those cries gonna swallow up your last dying gasp
you can hear them out there they come inside and ride you slow they come inside where they will grow without a hope without a dream without anything without a demon to turn the key of all the lies now that have been told
of all the hearts now that have been sold
sown
those cries gonna getcha chill you down to the bone
those cries gonna swallow up your last dying gasp so hear them now all the dead-eyed souls who've spent their lives and just grown old go hear the cries from the dead-eyed souls who've spent their lives now they're turning cold
