

Facade

Jared Evan

You like the fame
You really think your life is great
Don't live such a slow lie
Cause we know what it goes like, like
Life's a game
You've got a formula to write
But our life's the same
Got nothing to hide
Hide

Yeah I bash on the shit
Motherf*ckers putting wrists up
They wanna claim like their life is great
When their life is fake
And they're hiding everything
Just for righteous sake
It's like pause on the real
You could take a selfie
Put it up motherf*cker
I don't really give a f*ck
I don't care about your ice
And the shit you wanna touch
All you wanna do is brag
Cause you got a bag
You was in the back
When I got an advance
You got racks and plaques with fat knots?
So you motherf*ckers all in your feels and got nice?
f*ck that shit, you just want likes
You could break a promise to your wallet
You can leave a comment in your bots
You still gonna wanna make me vomit
I ain't gotta be up at the top
But I ain't gonna stop you from the climb either
So you gotta

Like the fame
You really think your life is great
Don't live such a slow lie
Cause we know what it goes like, like

Life's a game
You've got a formula to write
But our life's the same
Got nothing to hide
Hide

The chain, the watch, the clothes, the drop
It's just the same old same, you say a lot
But frankly I ain't impressed by precious stones
When they're on borrowed time, they're not your own
You wouldn't know real wealth
If a nigga smacked through it
And popping on IG, Twitter
Now you acting different?
Susan Storm ass niggas, man I see right through
But that's cool dude, step back watch how I move

Hopped off of IG to work on my craft
While you was fishing, my mixes came back
A model, actor, designer, athlete?
From what I know dog, that's hard to believe
Man we bleed the same, man we eat the same
Why you fronting homie?
Plus your handle's lame
I got a handle on my f*cking destiny
And dog it's denouement, on an insta page
And I'm gone

Like the fame (you like the fame oh)
You really think your life is great
Don't live such a slow lie
Cause we know what it goes like, like
Life's a game
You've got a formula to write
But our life's the same
Got nothing to hide
