Retrospect

Jared Evan

Minimize and hide you in my brain, yeah
You've been drowning memories in my heart

How do I right this life I'm running through?
How do I wipe the slate clean in my mind?
Why does it feel like I've been waiting long for you?

Now I'm thinking later
It's like just yesterday
We caught one another
You bring me back this way
Nostalgic type of loving
I guess we can't control
This automatic timing
We're stuck in retrospect

Nostalgic like my daddy's guitar
When I was 7 years old
Just reaching for the stars
Analyze how I got you
And how I lost you
Instead of break
You make me speak to gospel
Got me breathing hard like a ventilator
I'm always high like the seas that be seven
Yeah my mind speaks later
When that light speed fade us
Deeper than the ocean
They bring me all that new
But you got me on my old shit

How do I right this life I'm running through?
How do I wipe the slate clean in my mind?
Why does it feel like I've been waiting long for you?
Ye-ye, yeah, yeah, yeah

Now I'm thinking later
It's like just yesterday
We caught one another
You bring me back this way
Nostalgic type of loving
I guess we can't control
This automatic timing
We're stuck in retrospect

I've been looking forward
To all that's behind
I don't wanna wait for you and I
And I'm hoping we can get this right (Yeah)
All this time we've been wasting

Now I'm thinking later
It's like just yesterday
We caught one another
You bring me back this way
Nostalgic type of loving
I guess we can't control

This automatic timing
We're stuck in retrospect (x2)
